On my business card is stated that "I drink red wine and I tell lies". Both of which are my own. In life, I have had over 90 different jobs in my working life. Both in the private sector as a small business person. Across Australia and overseas. I have housed, fed and cleaned the toilets of others. I am your fellow traveller throughout this adventure we all call life. Personally I have been blessed with ADHD. So please don't be offended if I can't recall your name. My God gave me and my twin the entire world as a gift. And if I screw it up it is my fault alone. I am a Christian, a Freemason, plus an honourable man blessed as an artist. Who fervently believes in the goodness of all. From back when the world was wide and everyone worked for the betterment of our families and our communities. Parents and Grandparents were our guides and we were beloved of all. Not self sufficient alone, divorced or old. If I can be of service to this my community. "I am Ernest".
